MAP OF TAK

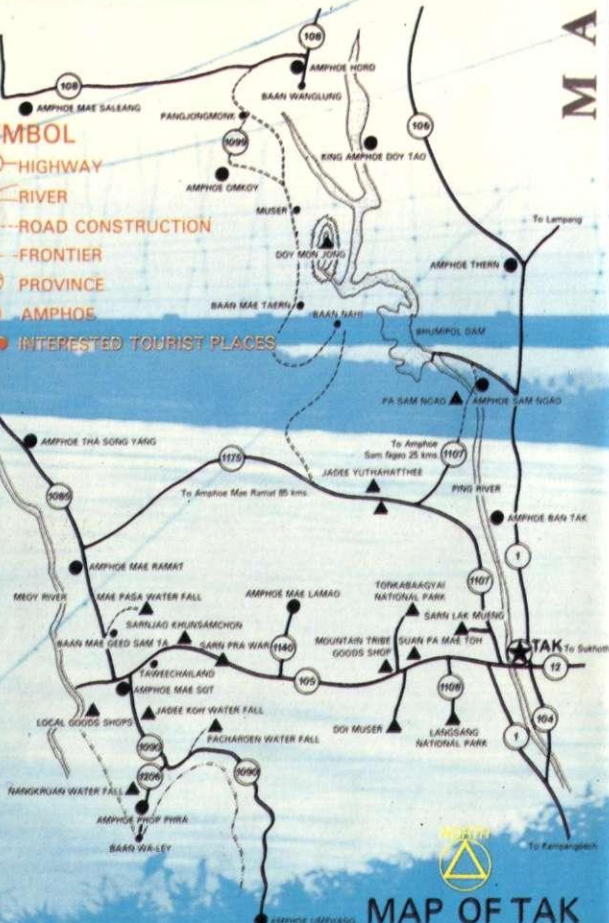

At a distance of 425 km from Bangkok on Highway 32 before reaching Lampang you will find a location known as Tak Province which is surrounded with luxuriant forests, high forested peaks, multiple number of waterfalls, and scenic tourist spots. The Ping River flows through Tak. The scenery on both sides of the River is magnificent. It is an extremely impressive spectacle. It makes a relaxing evening sojourn for the provincial folks and it is tempting for the people to take a refreshing boat trip on the river. This can become an unforgettable experience.

Tak is inhabited by several minority ethnic groups living in their natural habitat and endowed with their age-old culture, traditions and rituals which are a thought-provoking challenge for scholars to conduct studies. It also has very important gem trading centres, particularly the one located at Mae Sod. It can also boast of having the largest dam in the South East Asia; Bhumiphol Dam. The scenery of the dam is exquisitely beautiful which is the main tourist attraction of the Province. For those who are interested in the history of this province they can visit easily the historical national park located in the adjoining Sukhothai Province, only 70 km. away.
